Not illustrated. 1912 Excerpt: .this desire the number of schools to be taught with English as a medium of instruction has increased gradually year by year. This growth is evident from the following statement: Before the opening of the school year 1909-10 no rural schools were taught wholly in English. During that year 124 rural teachers, at their own request, were given permission by their supervising principals to conduct all their classes in English. The results were so satisfactory that during the past year the number of rural schools conducted wholly in English was increased to 154. In 222 rural schools some subjects other than English were taught in English, and in but 2 per cent of the rural schools was no English whatever taught. The following table shows the progress of English in the rural schools during the past three years: During the coming school year over 550 Porto...
